PAPER TARIFF MATTERS. George Jones of the New York "Times" and Erastus Brooks of the "Express, made arguments to-day before the Way and Means Committee, for the removal of graphics of his candidate, "whose life long the duty of 20 per cent imposed on wood pulp. They elaimed that it was owing to the advance from 25 to 50 per cent in the the advance from 25 to 50 per cent in the price of pulp and the combination of paper manufacturers, chiefly in the West, that the price of paper had advanced from 5½ to 6 cents per pound (price last year) to 9½ to 10 cents now charged. It was also claimed that it was a combination of paper makers that forced the price of paper to 26 and 28 cents per pound during the war. That it had now caused an advance of about 50 per cent, and if no restrictions were placed upon them, they might force the price even to war figures. The manufacturers present, denied the existence of a combination to enhance prices, and claimed the advance was entirely regulations.

At a meeting of the Cabinet to-day ecretary Sherman read a communication which he had addrssed to the Speaker o he aset of formal service of notice on the House of Representatives, containing a full statement of the facts connected with the hoop iron case, and giving th conclusions arrived at by the Attorney General, which are to the effect that th resent decision, so tar as it effects the cut hoops, however well founded it may

The Secretary states his concurrence in this opinion, believing the distinction between cut hoops and hoop iron is a distinction without a difference, and that the admission of these cut hoops at advalorem duty of 35 per cent, is a violation of the true interest of the law, but that considering the fact that the present decision of thedepartment, has been in force for over a year, and that purchases of these cut hoops have been made in large quantities for shipment to the United States, based upon the faith of this decision, he deems it proper to submit a full state.

that gathered at the Mercantile Library to-night, to hear ex-Senator John B. A Terrible Picture of Irish Distress-The Henderson speak against the third term idea, has not been equaled in late years in the matter of numbers and Pespectablity. The large hall was filled to its utmos capacity, and the street below was lined with those who were unable to gain en trance, and lingered to discuss the topic in a great majority, of the best class of were present. Under the tutelage and promptings of the Grant organ of sales are now closed. Prices finished at city, several hundred members of the substratum of society attended the mee ing for the purpose of preventing the adoption of an anti-Grant resolution, but they found themselves overshadowed in numbers, which prevented the accomplishment of their design by the legitimate means of voting, and the presence of a large police force warned them that dis-orderly proceedings would not be tolerat-ed. Many German citizens of prominence and influence were seen in the meeting. The demonstration, while it does not prove that the Republican majority is against Grant, shows very conclusively against Grant, shows very conclusively that the anti-third term element of the party here, as well as elsewhere, is comprised of the most intelligent, progressive and conscientions men and that the nomination of Grant at Chicago must necessarily alienate from the Republican party a very large minority of its votes, and that too at a crucial time in the party's existence when it has no votes to agare.

very large minority of its votes, and that too at a crucial time in the party's existence, when it has no votes to spare.

The resolution, which was carried by storm, indicates the temper of the meeting. General Henderson's speech was almost purely argumentative. He devoted himself to the task of exposing the dangers involved in violating the two-term traditions of the Government. The arguments made use of were those commonly heard against the proposed re election of General Grant, but the subject was handled in a most thorough and exhaustive manner, the speaker calling to his aid all the powers of his well-stored mind. He only touched lightly upon the scandals of Grant's Administration, saying that those had been glossed over and obscured by the halo of military glory around Grant, and he (the speaker, did not care to stir that muddy pool. He then showed, by numerous references to great fastes in history, that the safeguards of our liberty could not be too zealously preserved. Grant might not have any unholy or dangerous ambition, but if elected to a third-term he will get a fourth and a fith, and such a precedent established, some men would at least get in whose ambition would be dangerous and probably fatal to the life of the Nation.

The mat-ter was not discussed in his presence, and nothing was said about counting in a quorum of lusionists, and had heard it on the streets, and referred to it incidentally He first learned of the counting ou the streets, and referred to it incidentally. He first learned of the counting out through the papers, and was pleasantly surprised at the result of the certificating. It had been his rule to decide individual cases on their merits. If he signed any certificate that was wrong, the facts were falsely put before him; no one was counted out; had presumed that his council were honest and honorable men, and had compiled tabulations according to law. He had acted honestly. Certain rules had been laid down, which were applied to the returns regardless of the party. There had not been an instance where a Democrat had been allowed to correct the returns. Individual cases were taken up, some of which the Governor acknowledged there had plainly been erasures and interference with tabulations. The examination will continue to-morrow.

I never for moment have comtemplated such acourse and the rumor you speak of was no doub promptly denied. The first public mention of my candidacy was in the inference drawn from my letter to Hon, Mr. Haskins of New York, in which I said what I of New York, in which I said what I would seek to do in case of my nomination and election. Since that time I have been considered a candidate by the public, and have so regarded myself, with the purpose neither to press any one to support me, nor to decline such friendly aid as is offered me. This position I intend to occupt to the end and I don't think it necessary for me to be little and arraign Gen. Grant. Senator Blaine or any one else, nor will I use my official position to promote my candidacy.

Very truly yours, ation as one measure. In this manner the committee hopes to accomplish some reforms in that line, even though they do not secure all desired. The first measure is to be in reference to property on the exempt list. This list is to be reduced in the bill to public buildings connected with the administration of the State and local Government and churches which do not exceed $10,000 in value. Everything else will be taxed, and no reduction to the taxpayer for debts. This is to be followed by other bills providing the mode for taxing different classes of property.
